PROFESSOR BURT NEUBORNE is the Inez Milholland Professor of Civil Liberties and founding Legal Director of the Brennan Center for Justice at NYU Law School. For 45 years, he has been one of the nation's foremost civil liberties lawyers, serving as National Legal Director of the ACLU from 1981–86, Special Counsel to the NOW Legal Defense and Education Fund from 1990–1996, and as a member of the New York City Human Rights Commission from 1988–1992. He has argued numerous Supreme Court cases, and has litigated literally hundreds of important constitutional cases in the state and federal courts. In 1990, he was the recipient of the University-wide Distinguished Teacher Award at New York University for his work in teaching Civil Procedure, Evidence, Federal Courts and Constitutional Law. Professor Neuborne is the author of three books and over 20 law review articles on diverse areas of constitutional law and procedure. He currently directs the legal program of the Brennan Center, which was established to honor Justice William Brennan, Jr.'s monumental contribution to American law. In 2001, in recognition of his scholarship and his work in the courts, Professor Neuborne was elected to membership in the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

THE U.S. CONSTITUTION LECTURE SERIES is a ten-week Thursday series of one hour lectures running from October 4 through December 13 at 6:30 PM in The Cooper Union's historic Great Hall. This series comprises the 2012 John Jay Iselin Memorial Lecture, and is made possible with support from The Iselin Fund and the New York State Archives Partnership Trust.
